

What is the BRIDG?

The Biomedical Research Integrated Domain Group (BRIDG) initiative is a domain analysis model representing protocol-driven biomedical/clinical research that was developed to provide the basis for harmonization among standards within the clinical research domain and between biomedical/clinical research and healthcare.

More information can be found on the BRIDG website and on our Wiki's [\[\[BRIDG\]\]](#) page.